

ABSTRACT

~~A wagering game facilitated by an electronic gaming device. The game~~ A game enhances conventional video poker by providing players an enhanced opportunity to hit four of a kind. Ideally, players are provided an option to place a wager once five initial cards are displayed. The option is provided in response to ~~five~~ to the five dealt cards including one or more pairs. Should the player elect to place the wager, the player must retain one pair and a kicker. ~~The device then provides the player with a~~ The player is then provided with a fourth card having a rank the same as the rank of the pair. The player now holds three of a kind and a kicker. Finally, a fifth and final card is displayed. If the player obtains a four of a kind, the player receives a payout. ~~In another embodiment, a progressive jackpot comprises a player receiving four of a kind and holding a kicker which matches a randomly generated card rank and suit. Another embodiment allows a player to buy one or more cards prior to any cards being revealed. Other versions include a progressive jackpot and the option to buy cards.~~